What We Stand For

ADVANCING THE INDUSTRY

National Sorghum Producers works to integrate all sorghum industry segments through one organization so that all sorghum-related entities are working toward a common goal and communicating a consistent message. Through membership programs and NSP subsidiaries, NSP maintains good working relationships through synergistic activities that benefit sorghum growers and our partners. NSP was founded in 1955 by farmers who desired to make an impact on the industry. The organization has worked to fulfill that legacy every since and, today, focuses on leading positive change for sorghum farmers through effective policy and relationships.

CREATING NEEDED CHANGE

NSP provides sorghum growers with an ally in Washington, D.C. When Congress is in session working on a farm bill, an energy bill, trade, environmental legislation, or other pertinent issues to our industry, NSP is in your corner.

NSP advocates for the interests of sorghum, based on what our members tell us is most important to them. NSP has a small and dedicated staff team that is committed to staying on top of the issues in farm country. The NSP office is located in the heart of the Sorghum Belt, so we have a constant heartbeat on what is most important to your business. At the same time, we maintain a presence in Washington, D.C., to keep an eye on legislation and regulations affecting sorghum growers and our industry. Finally, we provide our members with high quality, targeted educational materials to keep them up to date and in the loop about sorghum issues.

Our Impact

REGULATORY ADVOCACY

The threat to new and existing technologies in seed products, treatments and chemicals is greater than ever, and new and ongoing support for our efforts remains critical.

IMIFLEX	Glyphosate	FirstAct	Sefina	Atrazine
NSP provided ongoing support to UPL and Advanta US as needed to ensure federal and state registration approvals.	NSP provided ongoing regulatory defense of glyphosate for its many safe uses in row crop agriculture.	NSP provided support to Adama and S&W Seeds to help ensure their new product launch.	NSP, in conjunction with USCP, continued to test this new product and promote its use for SCA control.	NSP advocated for and continues to work on the re-registration of Atrazine with the Environmental Protection Agency.

THE RESOURCE-CONSERVING CROP™

NSP has worked for several years with NRCS to amend language that will allow sorghum to be included in CSP. In April, NRCS announced additional language concerning the definition of a "resource-conserving crop" (RCC) and a "resource-conserving crop rotation" (RCCR) under the Conservation Stewardship Program (CSP) "to be more inclusive of all crops that could be resource conserving and fit within the purpose for which the definition was crafted," giving sorghum a strong foothold in this program.

SUSTAINABILITY MESSAGING AND RESEARCH

Targeted Messaging

NSP sent targeted messaging about sorghum sustainability, including the Winter 2021 Issue of the Sorghum Grower magazine and a letter with sorghum sustainability talking points to all agricultural staffers in the House and Senate. This information was distributed through print mailings, emails and leadership talking points on Capitol Hill.

KansCAT Research

NSP conducted a project with NRCS to: 1) deploy a database for storing and assessing practice information, 2) increasing literacy of farmers and conservation partners using this information, and 3) leveraging conservation practices for value in carbon-focused ethanol markets. More available at SorghumGrowers.com/sustainability.

D.C. ENGAGEMENT

Despite office closures and restrictions, NSP remains engaged with leaders in Washington, D.C., advocating on behalf of the sorghum industry through virtual and face-to-face meetings, keeping relationships and information sharing flowing between our office and DC decision makers.

All About Sorghum

PRODUCTION

Sorghum is traditionally grown throughout the Sorghum Belt, which runs from South Dakota to Southern Texas, primarily on dryland acres. Preliminary projections show sorghum farmers planted 7.3 acres in 2021, up 24 percent from 2020.

MARKETS

Demand for sorghum continued to grow and develop in 2020 and 2021. Exports have increased due to various trade agreements, leading to expanded international market access. In April 2021, the sorghum industry saw the largest ever week for sorghum export sales with 33.9 million bushels purchased and 33.8 million bushels shipped, predominately to China. NSP continues to advocate for research and policies that create value-added domestic marketing opportunities.

SORGHUM SUSTAINS

Sorghum has many sustainable attributes, and sorghum farmers are on the front lines mitigating and responding to the impacts of climate change while adapting and innovating to keep the lands they steward productive now and for future generations.

Sorghum Sustains By:

- Reducing greenhouse gas emissions and sequestering carbon. With its dense and robust root structure, sorghum translocates carbon deeper into soils.
- Through breeding innovations, sorghum farmers have successfully adopted no-till or minimum-till practices on approximately 75% of sorghum acres – meaning the sorghum associated carbon is sequestered for longer and deeper than in most cropping systems.
- Sorghum also plays a significant role in domestic biofuel markets, which according to EPA resulted in reduced GHG emissions equivalent to removing 17 million cars from the road in one year alone.
- Sorghum is a water smart, climate resilient crop, and with the necessary resources to innovate and the incentives to bring those innovations to the market, we can accomplish more.

NSP has worked extensively to promote sorghum as a climate-smart solution with legislators and through the current Administration's request for input on tackling the climate crisis at home and abroad.

PURPOSE

Each year, National Sorghum Producers provides sorghum growers the chance to showcase their own crop in the sorghum yield contest. Along with recognizing growers, this event also provides an opportunity for NSP to highlight our industry partner seed companies by recognizing the seed varieties used by our top growers.

INDUSTRY PARTNER OPPORTUNITIES

All NSP Industry Partners are recognized annually during the Sorghum Yield Contest awards ceremony, and acknowledgment of seed varieties is complete with each winner announcement. This includes recognition on the big screen, the event program and other related Commodity Classic material.

NSP also welcomes the opportunity each year to creatively work with individual companies to spread information and awareness to farmer customers about the contest, how to enter and the opportunities that exist for winners.

Testimonials

“ NSP Industry Partnership places information about our ShieldAg sorghum harvest aids (ARRO, MiloGuards and Crop Savers) in front of the tight group of consumers with a laser focus on sorghum production. It is one of the few industry partnerships that yields timely results from our typical farmer customers. We appreciate the opportunities we receive as a Partner.

-Mike Bergmeier
PRESIDENT, SHIELD AG EQUIPMENT

“ Western Plains Energy is a proud member of National Sorghum Producers. As an ethanol producer in northwest Kansas, we want to support ag producers and serve as a great customer to sorghum growers in our area. Our strong relationship with NSP allows us to stay engaged with the initiatives and politics that are most important to sorghum producers. Our membership with NSP has definitely added value to our business, and we sincerely appreciate all that they do for the sorghum industry.

-Derek Peine
GENERAL MANAGER, WESTERN PLAINS ENERGY

“ Our partnership with NSP creates significant value for our company. Conestoga is an end user of agricultural products, and NSP’s advocacy on behalf of not only the sorghum industry, but the ethanol industry as well, has proved to be incredibly beneficial for us. NSP has been a vocal champion for ethanol programs like the Section 9005 program and CARB Fix. This partnership provides us with an additional touch point in Washington, D.C., and regular updates on legislative and regulatory programs that could impact our business. The advocacy, networking and connections Conestoga gains from our partnership with NSP far outweighs what we pay. It has been a very good investment.
